3. Reaffirms that the 1951 Convention and its 1967 Protocol remain the foundation of the international refugee regime and recognizes the importance of their full application by States parties, notes with satisfaction that one hundred and forty-one States are now parties to one instrument or to both, encourages the Office of the High Commissioner and States to strengthen their efforts to promote broader accession to those instruments and their full implementation, and underlines in particular the importance of full respect for the principle of non-refoulement;

4. Notes that fifty-three States are now parties to the 1954 Convention relating to the Status of Stateless Persons³⁵ and that twenty-four States are parties to the 1961 Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness,³⁶ and encourages the High Commissioner to continue his activities on behalf of stateless persons;
